Time Equities Inc. Art-in-Buildings is pleased to announce the newest exhibition in the atrium of 125 Maiden Lane, Carolyn Salas: Hang Up.

Hang Up is a monumental installation that responds to the parameters of the atrium at 125 Maiden Lane. Hang Up is not easily defined; it is simultaneously a painting, sculpture, and site-responsive installation. Constructed of six suspended 20-foot panels of unweaved, dyed canvas, Hang Up both defines and divides the space. The panels expose and obstruct, relate and contrast, puddle and spill across the marble structure on which they come to rest. The carefully placed panels give a viewer a wholly new experience depending on their vantage point. Hang Up provides a counter-point to lower Manhattan's frenzy and draws attention to the atrium as a transitional space between the street and office.

Carolyn Salas was born in Hollywood and lives and works in Brooklyn. She received an MFA from CUNY Hunter College in 2005. Selected museum and gallery exhibitions include, DODGEgallery, NY; Dimensions Variable, Miami; Kate Werble Gallery, NY; BRIC Rotunda Gallery, NY; Abrons Art Center, NY; The Torrance Art Museum, Torrance, CA; Casey Kaplan, NY; and The Berkshire Museum, Pittsfield, MA among many others. Salas has recently completed residency programs at the New York Art Residency & Studios (NARS) Foundation and Fountainhead, FL.

Also on view at 125 Maiden Lane: Allen Glatter: Smoke and Screaming Target.
